

Laser Hair Comb

650nm

Red light penetrates the surface cells to reach roots of hair follicles, stimulating the rich melanin contained in the roots of hair follicles, which can specifically absorb the soft laser energy under this range of wavelength. After absorbing energy, it can increase the blood supply of the entire hair follicle area, accelerate the synthesis of ATP, and activate the redevelopment of hair follicles. Folding comb form, lightweight and easy to carry, which can remove hair by combing to irradiate the surface of the scalp to stimulate the roots of hair follicles more directly, to achieve better results.
